OCTONAUTS
The Octonauts and the snot sea cucumber

It's a story about me!

1

The Octonauts were having fun inside the Octopod. Captain Barnacles and Kwazii were playing a board game and Peso was busy making a puzzle.

2

Peso was putting his final puzzle pieces in place when he heard a loud rumbling noise. His puzzle started to shake!

Shake! Shake!

3

The shaking got worse and worse. "Kwazii, sound the Octoalert!" called Captain Barnacles. Everyone ran to the HQ to report for duty.

4

The tremors are caused when the ocean floor starts to shake.

"It's an underwater tremor," Professor Inkling explained. "The ship has tilted!" said Barnacles. "We need to get it standing straight again."

5

Help, help, help!

Barnacles and Kwazii swam outside to fix the Octopod. Suddenly, they heard a little noise. They saw a small sea creature caught under a rock. It was shouting for help.

They lifted the rock off the little creature and rushed it to Peso in the medical lab. It was a snot sea cucumber and it was very slippery!

6

It's covered in slippery slimy snot.

7

Come back, Slippy!

Peso named the creature Slippy. He tried to bandage it but, at that very moment, the Octopod tilted again and Slippy slipped out of the tank and escaped! The crew spread out to search for her.

8

Come to Kwazii!

Slip! slip!

Kwazii chased Slippy down a corridor, but he slid on Slippy's slime and started skidding all over the place. Slippy whizzed up and down, she was having lots of fun!

9

Sea cucumbers need water.

The crew couldn't find Slippy anywhere. "Sea cucumbers can't survive without water," said Captain Barnacles. "So if we can't bring the sea cucumber to the ocean...

10

Got you! Now let's make you better.

"...we'll have to bring the ocean to the sea cucumber!" The Octonauts popped on their diving helmets, opened the hatches and let water flood the Octopod. Soon, they saw Slippy floating in the seawater and Peso managed to catch her in his net.

11

Peso bandaged Slippy up and gave her a 'Slippiest Patient Ever!' sticker. Everything was covered in slimy sea snot and seaweed, but the Octonauts agreed that it had been worth it to save their new friend Slippy.
