

Science Scavenger Hunt

Science is all around us, wherever we go. Discoveries made by scientists go on to inspire new inventions that can help make our world a better place. Some might help us understand how our bodies work and live healthier lives, and other discoveries might help us tackle climate change or reduce the amount of electricity we use. Finally there are inventions, like a mobile phone, which just can make our lives easier!

When you next go on a walk with your family, bring this page with you and see how many things you can spot! And when you get home, talk with your family about why you think these things are useful and how they might help people or be good for the environment.

| What to see:   | Tick | Where did you see it? | Why do you think this is useful? |
|--|------|-----------------------|----------------------------------|
| A car or bus with a hybrid engine  |      |                       |                                  |
| A building with solar panels   |      |                       |                                  |
| A place where you can plug in an electric car                                |      |                       |                                  |
| Something that helps people that can't see to cross the road                 |      |                       |                                  |
| LED light bulbs  |      |                       |                                  |
| Something that uses wireless technology                                      |      |                       |                                  |
| Someone using a laser (hint - look for someone scanning barcodes in a shop!) |      |                       |                                  |
| An automatic door  |      |                       |                                  |
| A recycling bin  |      |                       |                                  |
| Something that is powered by the wind  |      |                       |                                  |
| A place where you can exercise   |      |                       |                                  |
| A hand sanitiser dispenser   |      |                       |                                  |
